LEADS FIGHT

Underwood Estimates Revenue at $60,000,000.

LEGIE WOULD PAY $180,000 PER YEAR.

The Underwood excise tax should become a law persons business and partnerships incomes less than $5,000 a would be exempt from tax.

Incomes of $7,500 must pay Incomes of 10,000 must pay Incomes of $20,000 must pay Incomes of 50,000 must pay $450; Incomes of 100,000 must pay $950; President of the United States must pay $700.

Senators and Representatives must pay $25.

Cabinet officers must pay $70.

Andrew Carnegie must pay $1,000.

Washington, March 1.—With unanimity tonight the Democrats in the House struck the hardest blow which the Republican tariff has sustained since it was first engrafted on the people of the country.

Free sugar, both raw and refined.

Extension of the excise tax of 10 per cent, per annum, now levied by law on corporations, to individuals and co-partnerships having an annual income of more than $5,000.

These were the absolutely unopposed twin bills which were presented late this afternoon to the caucus of the House Democrats by the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee. They were approved after a debate that lasted for several hours.

By putting sugar on the free list, the Democrats admit that they will deprive the Treasury of $2,000,000 of needed revenue annually. This they propose to make up by the excise tax on business, which Representative Underwood, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, believes is good Democratic doctrine.

Free sugar was agreed upon with the avowed purpose of reducing the cost of living to every man, woman and child in the country.

While the Underwood sugar bill attracted much attention, its importance was nearly lost to view in the light of the unexpected excise tax. This tax is practically the same as the income tax which the Supreme Court of the United States, several years ago, declared to be unconstitutional. Mr. Underwood believes the court's objections have been met. He said in the caucus:

"The Supreme Court since that time has maintained the constitutionality of an excise tax levied on all corporations doing business in the United States. The Supreme Court has decided that the Congress has the power to levy a special excise tax on the doing of a particular business, whether that business is conducted by an individual or a corporation."

RED FLAG TO SUGAR STATES

In bringing in a sugar bill Mr. Underwood deliberately injured and probably threw away his chances of adding a goodly number of delegates to his list when he goes into the Democratic National Convention as a candidate for President next June. It became known tonight that representations had been made to the majority leader that if he would not bring in a bill at this session reducing or removing the duty of nearly 2 cents a pound on sugar he would get the Louisiana delegation to the convention.

To-night Representatives of Louisiana are declaring that the Underwood bill, if it becomes a law, will ruin vast property in that state, and that the sugar planters might as well burn their plantation buildings for the insurance.

Representative Ollie James, of Kentucky, was the leader of the free sugar movement among the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee. He has always believed that free sugar would reduce the price of that article to the consumer and that Congress should find another means of raising revenue than by placing a tax on this necessity of life.

Mr. Underwood held off because no satisfactory scheme for raising the lost revenue could be devised for several weeks. At length, when the excise tax on business was worked out, Mr. Underwood cheerfully came around to the view held by Mr. James and others on the committee.

Notice Pedagogues.

The last meeting of the State Teachers' Association of Oklahoma saw 6,000 teachers in attendance. The largest session of the State Association in Kentucky did not have more than 800 teachers. The meeting in Louisville on June 25 is expected to be a record breaker, and the officers of the Association are confident that 2,500 teachers will be present on this occasion.

Miss Addie Lee Dean Honored.

To be chosen Editor-in-Chief of the "The Idea," the official organ of the State University and to get it out in a way to bring many compliments, and only praise, on her head, is indeed no small attainment, and this is just what happened to Miss Addie Lee Dean of St. Louis' who is well known and highly related in this county. Her grandfather, the venerable, J. M. Dean, and many other relatives reside in this county, at Iron Hill, and her father, R. H. Dean, and her mother, who was Miss Mary Crawford, were both born and reared here and near here.

Of the "Leap Year" issue The "Idea" said the following week: "We wish to congratulate the young ladies of the University on their 'Leap Year Issue'."

"They proved themselves to be excellent journalists, and every person who read the issue was more than pleased with it. Such remarks as this were hurled at the editorial staff: 'Say, you mums better turn the paper over to the girls. They can run it better than you.'"

The paper went like wild fire. When the young ladies had finished delivering them a hurry-up order had to be sent in to the printers for more papers to supply the out-of-town subscribers

Auto - Contest

The Auto Contest closed as was announced in last week's issue at noon Wednesday. The two leading contestants at noon Wednesday March 13th, stood as follows:

No. 100—12,851.985

No. 103—30,064.895

As is generally known 100 was G. G. Hammond's number, and 103 was Mrs. Walter Guess' number, making her winner of the automobile and she has elected to take the new Ford car, which is now her property.

and exchanges. The whole staff deserves much praise for their splendid work, and we especially desire to congratulate Miss Dean, the editor-in-chief, upon her untiring and indefatigable work in making the issue a success. Our only fear is that they have set such a high standard that we mere men will not be able to keep it up, and thereby cause great dissatisfaction among our subscribers and readers, because of this, perhaps we may be compelled to turn over the editorial and repertorial work to the young ladies in the near future.

CROWDING US ON BOTH SIDES

Judge Hagar To Open up Mineral Lands Soon.

Land values in Livingston county are on a boom, according to Perry Melan, editor of the Smithland Banner who was in the city today. "I know of one farm that was bought for $5 an acre last year that the owner has leased for $9 an acre."

"The probable construction of an interurban—the interurban as I heard some one call it the other day, has caused the greatest sort of activity in real estate values. You know Livingston county is rich in various kinds of minerals and now it would be hard to find any of this land that has not been covered with an option, so great is the confidence of many persons that the county is destined for a boom equally as great and substantial as that of eastern Kentucky."

"Judge Hagar heads an Owensboro corporation that closed a deal for 240 acres of mineral lands the past week, on leases, and the concern agrees to start operating the first of April."

This, I think, is but the forerunner of many more enterprises."

Impossible to Please Theorists. Now comes a lecturer who declares that "the old-fashioned mother," who stays at home by the fireside, is immoral. It is getting increasingly difficult for mothers to please all the theorists. Some of the most successful ones don't even try.—Syracuse Herald.

GRAVES COUNTY CONGRESSIONAL TIMBER

J. E. Robbins Second to Announce for James' Seat.

WHAT HIS HOME PAPER SAYS OF HIM.

The announcement of Judge Robbins as a Democratic candidate for Congress in this district merits and will receive more than passing notice, not only in the district which he would represent in Congress, but throughout the State, which is also interested in the character of man the first district will send to Congress to take the place of the Hon. Ollie James.

In this connection we may say that the rank and file of voters were never more wide awake to the duty which rests upon them of looking closely into the character and fitness of men who offer themselves as candidates for places of public trust. The people seem to have at last realized that the responsibility is theirs if unfit and improper men are elected to office. Men who offer themselves as candidates must measure up to a standard higher than that of mere personal magnetism; must possess qualities which lie deeper than surface gloss. This means that a man who is not willing to be thrown into the crucible would be wise to curb his ambition. The people are seriously in earnest and are giving to public concerns a much closer and less superficial attention than ever before since the early constructive days of the republic.

All of which leads up to the consideration of the problem with which the voters of the First district are now to deal. For years the district has been content in the belief that in Congress it was represented by a man who ranked among the foremost statesmen at Washington. Had he not been called to a higher place doubtless Hon. Ollie James would have continued to represent the First district in the House of Representatives for many years to come. But with Ollie James "kicked up" into the Senate, this district must choose a man to take his place in the House. That is the business now before us.

It was to be expected that there would be a number of men to offer themselves for this very honorable and desirable position, and possibly before the entries close there will be four or five

Letter From Oregon.

Enterprise, Ore., Feb. 29, 1912.
Mr. S. M. Jenkins,

Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir and friend:—Enclosed you will find $1.00 for which please continue my subscription to the Record-Press for another year. We can not get along without the Press, the old home paper. A number of the old friends asked me to write them about this country when I left there and I promised to write them through the paper as it would be easier than to send each one a letter.

I arrived here the 18th of March, last year, and I like it fine. I think it the best country I ever lived in. In the summer there is not a night but you want a quilt over you, and the winters are not severe; but nice sleighing and plenty of snow. I can stand in my shop door and see snow on the mountains to the west of us any time of the year and not over thirty miles East of us it is almost continuous summer. It is very healthy and the soil is very fertile and nearly every thing can be grown to perfection in the county. I wish some of the folks could have been here to the County Fair last fall, it would have amazed them.

The doctors are the only ones who do not get rich as they have to depend on the increase in the population for their income and while we do not believe in race suicide here, there seems to be very little sickness of any other kind. The water is pure and cold; here in Enterprise we have pure mountain spring water in every house by a gravity system from four miles out of town. All our country is well watered with running streams and the hotter the sun is, the higher our streams get. This is, and was a good stock country, gradually changing into a more diversified farming country. The valleys are fine farming lands and the hills are good for grain and grazing. They don't know what a failure of crops are, and have but one pest, the little ground squirrel, that gets some of the grain at the edge of the fields, but they poison them and it will soon be a thing of the past. Stock of no kind ever was known to have any malignant disease and it is the best hog country in the world. The lovers of sport and the beautiful are delighted and fully satisfied with the conditions here in the hunters' paradise and the artist has very aptly called it, "The Switzerland of America." It will be a trip well spent to come here just to see the country. If you want a fair description of this country write The Pioneer Land Co., for their book and they will send it to you.

I see a good many Kentucky people here, who left there 30 and 40 years ago, some drove over the plains with ox teams, but are all independent and happy now. When I landed here, about the first one I met was J. L. Browning, who used to live in our neighborhood. He is in a big store here and is doing well. Regards to Ollie James and Rufus Stinson and all the rest.

Yours Respt.
J. F. BRUCE.

CALDWELL SPRINGS

(Delayed from last week.)

The farmers of this section met at the Caldwell Springs school house Saturday to consider the prices that have been offered for their tobacco.

March Oliver is visiting friends in the south. He will return home in a few days.

Miss Beulah Oliver, of near Frances, is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. Carrie Pilant.

Some few farmers have been released from Glenn's Chapel tobacco pool with the expressed understanding that they are not to sell their tobacco to any buyer in Lyon county, hence some of them will sell on the loose floor in Princeton, Kentucky.

Mr. Robert Kemp of Marion was here last week looking at our tobacco. He was told before he came that he would be in danger if he came into our neighborhood. He was with us two days and nights and left us hale and hearty for his home in Marion. Mr. Kemp made a good impression on our people and we hope to do business with him in the tobacco line. We may be mean but we have never had to guard any man while he looked at our tobacco. Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones.

The back water from the Cumberland river has reached us and is still rising.

Several of our farmers attended the "Horse Bucking Show" at Fredonia, Saturday and report a merry time.

Mr. Peek, our merchant, got himself badly hurt Saturday by falling off a wagon.

Mr. Jordan Thurman purchased a fine mule from J. S. Lowery Saturday.

Mr. Dan Riley sold a fine saddle horse Saturday to parties living in south Caldwell. Consideration $185.

The frequent freezing and thawing of the ground is doing the wheat crop great damage.

Rev. Hodge Gregston filled his regular appointment here Saturday and Sunday. He will remain with us until Wednesday in order to officiate at the marriage of Mr. Hershel Butler and Miss Nola Parish.

A BALD-HEADED WOMAN

Shorn of Her Crown of Beauty, Loses in Love and Marriage.

Hair is certainly most necessary to woman. Who could love and marry a bald-headed woman? What charms could one array to offset such a disfigurement?

A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her crowning glory is her hair. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness and success. Yet, right here in Marion, there are thousands of women who are neglecting or injuring their hair to such an extent that it is only a matter of time when it will be utterly ruined.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They use curling irons over-heated, or to excess, which destroys the natural oil of the hair, causing it to split, break and come out. They do not shampoo their hair often enough, or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients positively harmful to the scalp and hair.

As a result of such treatment, dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again, microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.

Almost any woman may rid herself of dandruff and diseased scalp and hair if she will but use the right remedy. We have that remedy, and we will positively guarantee that it will either cure dandruff and baldness or it will not cost the user anything.

That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. We will return your money if you do not find that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is an entirely satisfactory remedy that will promote hair growth and overcome scalp and hair troubles; that it will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all life in the hair roots has been extinguished, the follicles closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grew hair in 93 out of a hundred cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial and practical test.

We want you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so, while you have everything to gain. You had better think this over, and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Remember, you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store.

In Memory.

Bonnie Travis, seventeen years old son of Ewin Travis, after an illness of about eleven days of double pneumonia, succumbed to the grim monster, death, Thursday night Jan. 25th. His parents and many friends together with the aid of the physician, Dr. White, of Blackford, did all they could to stay the unwelcome visitor that slew little Bonnie, but all proved futile, though just beginning to bud into manhood he was called on to meet his other, brothers and sisters that have gone on before. Me thinks I can see his loved ones reach out their angelic hands to clasp the little hands of "blue eyed Bonnie" as he ascended the farther bank of the dark river of death and oh! what rejoicing there was when God had delivered the dear little boy to his mother, brother and sisters, who had gone on before him. Now, that dear little Bonnie is gone, the writer joins in with many other friends in offering consolation to the father, brothers and sisters who are left to mourn his absence. We learn that Bonnie professed faith in Christ Jesus some three years ago but had never put himself under the protection of any denominational church (has never become a member) though he left evidence that he was saved by proclaiming that he would never rest until he was in Heaven.

And now dear Bonnie, may we say, that, though you're gone from us, We hope to meet you some bright day. When all will be well with us. Your stay with us was a short time. Ah! Sad indeed, it makes feel, Yet, may we repeat in words of rhyme While upon our knees we kneel. That, we thank God you're resting now. As your grief-stricken father persuaded While your pains were great, this I The truth you never evaded. When to him, you answered and said I can't rest, papa, until I die, For my misery is great in the bed, But in Heaven, dear papa I will rest, goodbye.

The little card sent you by a friend Was received a little too late, Yet it was a token to the end, That the sender would meet you at the pearly gate. The heart dear Bonnie, upon that card, Pierced as it were, by cupid's dart, Represents the heart that's aching hard. Yet the memory of you still throbs in her heart. Now dear Bonnie we bid farewell To you, since you have left behind Your many friends too numerous to tell, Also your brothers, sisters and father, behind.—A FRIEND.

THE END OF TUBERCULOSIS

Civic Loss Through School Sickness.

By DR. LEONARD P. AYRES.

Figures from Germany, England, Sweden and seven American cities indicate that in the average city school system the children who are in need of such treatment as that afforded by the open air schools constitute from 3 to 5 per cent of the entire school membership. This means that Albany, for example, should have open air schools in sufficient numbers to care for 300 children, while New York city needs accommodations for 20,000. When such figures as these are mentioned the objection of expense looms high at once, but it must not be forgotten when we are considering expense that a thousand children of school age die each year of tuberculosis in New York city. On the average they have each had about six years of schooling, for which the city has paid about $250. This means a quarter of a million dollars loss each year in the great city in money expended on educating children who die of tuberculosis before growing up. A quarter of a million dollars a year spent in open air schools designed to prevent this frightful waste would go far toward meeting the entire expense.

WELL DESERVED

The Praise That Comes from Thankful Marion People.

One kidney remedy has known merit. Marion people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Marion testimony proves it reliable. W. I. Tabor, Marion, Ky., says: "I suffered for ten years from kidney trouble. There were severe pains in the small of my back, I was unable to sleep well and arose in the morning, feeling lame and sore. I was always tired, languid and nervous headaches were common and I also suffered from dizziness. My kidneys were disordered and the kidney secretions passed too frequent. It was finally my good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store. I used them and in three weeks was greatly relieved. Thus encouraged, I continued taking this remedy and the contents of one box effected a complete cure. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

State Capitol Gossip.

Frankfort, Ky., March, 4, 1912

Dear Marshall:—Only eight days of the session remain, but many measures will pass as each house will hereafter pass bills coming from the other.

The State Farmers' Institute has just closed an unusually interesting and profitable session here. These sessions grow year by year in both interest and attendance.

The following bills have become laws; 1 County Unit Bill, 2 Authorizing Governor's Mansion, 3 State Wide Compulsory Primary, 4 Bank Examiner's Bill, 5 Prison Board Bill.

Two more important measures awaiting the Governor's signature are School Inspector's Bill, and Insurance Commissioner Bill.

There seems no doubt as to his signing them both. A great deal of opposition was offered to the passage of the Insurance Bill and the discussion and investigation brought out many interesting facts to those who pay premiums for fire insurance, and I have information coming from a local insurance agent who was a member of the Insurance Committee that one man fixed all the rates in the state, and that he was paid for his services by a commission on all the business written in the state, therefore the incentive to fix high rates.

A bill to raise the Homestead exemption to $2,000 has passed the senate, but a similar bill was refused a reading in the house.

The confederate pension bill will become a law this week. It awards a pension of $10 a month to all Confederates having property below a certain valuation and an income less than $300.

Widows of Confederates who were married prior to 1890 are entitled to same rate.

The Bosworth Good Roads Bills which have passed the senate are having rough sailing in the house: the house membership resent the apparent disposition of its promoters to railroad it through, however distasteful its details are to those who want to be right and at the same time cautious. Some senators who voted for it, now are advising house members to be careful, besides it is very doubtful if a raise in the tax rate at this time would meet the Governor's approval.

There have many investigations of institutions, among them the State university, Louisville school system and the State Board of Health. All these were found to be in good condition and on the "square."

A most relentless fight has been made on the State Board of Health, especially Dr. J. N. McCormack, the State Secretary, but he has come out with colors flying, and through the investigation the people have been able to appreciate his great unselfish work for the suffering humanity of the State.

Will have much to tell next week, and I take this method of saying, if you have not received an answer to the letter you wrote me, it is because I have not had time to answer anything like half of my friends, and further, I am proud to say that not one genuine complaint has reached me.

Sincerely,
—Marion Pogue.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

French Syndicate Closes Option For 5,000 Acres.

Madisonville, Mar. 12—One of the biggest coal land deals ever transacted in Hopkins county is now a settled fact. Five thousand acres lying between Providence and Dalton, known as the Beulah coal field is to be opened up and operated by a French Syndicate.

It is estimated that $500,000 will be paid the land owners of that section within a year. The option has been standing for years. When opened it will necessitate a railroad to tap the community.

THE NATIONAL DRAINAGE CONGRESS

Meets in New Orleans, La., April 12th and 13th, 1912.

WHO MAY BE DELEGATES FROM MARION?

The National Drainage Congress will meet in New Orleans, April 12th and 13th, 1912, and a rate of one fare plus 25 cents has been authorized for this occasion by the I. C. Railroad. From the last U. S. Census report amount of swamp land in Louisiana is given as 9,500,000 acres, Mississippi 6,175,000 acres, Tennessee 800,000 acres and Kentucky 224,000 acres and it is hoped that as a result of this meeting steps may be taken which will form the foundation for action by the United States Congress for the appropriation of large sums of money for co-operation with the states and individual owners of wet lands in the development and reclamation of such lands.

The plans of the Drainage Congress are first to ask the Government for Assistance and co-operation in planning this work in the engineering feature and the general outlining of proper practical and feasible plans for the reclamation of wet lands. To this end it is desired that the Convention be as large and representative as possible. It is desirable that there shall be delegates from all states having swamp lands which are susceptible of reclamation. To accomplish this it has been provided that the membership of the Congress shall consist of:

1. Fifteen delegates from each state, to be appointed by the Governor thereof.
2. Ten delegates from each City having a population of over twenty-five thousand to be appointed by the Mayor.
3. Five delegates from each City or town having a population less than twenty-five thousand and over one thousand to be appointed by the Mayor or Chief Executive.
4. Five delegates from each County to be appointed by Chairman of the Government Board.
5. Two delegates from each incorporated town having a population of less than one thousand from each regularly organized association devoted to drainage, irrigation or other reclamation work, agricultural, horticultural and engineering; and from each college and commercial body concerned with public interests which has been duly organized within one year.
6. All duly accredited members of the state and federal drainage, irrigation, water or conservation commissions.
7. All state engineers and state commissioners or agricultural and horticulture.
8. All officers, Chairman of Committees, Members of the Executive Committees, Honorary Vice Presidents, members of the Board of Control and permanent delegates of the Congress.
9. The Governor of each state and the Mayor of each City or town having a population of over one thousand.

10. The President of the United States and all members of his cabinet.

11. All members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives.

OUR FRANKFORT LETTER.

Frankfort, Ky., March 11, 1912.
Dear Editor:—

I take this method of informing those who have written me in regards to debts owing by many school districts in the county, prior to the passage of the Sullivan Law, and to those holding these warrants, that I have succeeded in passing an act making the County Board of Education liable for payment of these claims, and would suggest that the creditors indulge the Board by being patient and make easy terms of settlement. No one need be alarmed as the County Board will be gilt edge on that proposition. And I would especially suggest that creditors not push suits pending, to a judgement, before the law goes into effect, as it might make complications that would add cost, etc, that are useless now.

I feel that all concerned will appreciate the situation, and each do his part to adjust this matter amicably. Each creditor will get every dollar owing him, both principal and interest, nobody lose a cent and citizens of Kentucky be saved from more than a quarter million dollars of double taxation.

Sincerely yours,
Marion F. Pogue.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11, 1912.

Dear Record Press:—This has been a very busy week at the Capital in law-making, the last two days each house is only considering the measures proposed by the other, therefore, every time a bill goes through either it measures one more act put up to the Governor.

The house did not see the panacea for Kentucky roads that Senator Bosworth so ably prescribed in the senate remedy, the house did not see it that way and tore it to shreds. There will be no State aid to roads this session for two reasons; we have not the money in the first place, and secondly, the house and the Governor would not stand for a raise in the tax this year.

The proposition sounded well, but did not look so well on paper—it had too much red tape and meaningless provisions and its friends would not stand for amendment, but in so railroadng it they lost the support of many conservative voters and thereby fell down in the end. A make shift Road Bill was passed, however, that nobody understands any more than they made arrangements to spend about $25,000 a year of the automobile fund that is lying so temptingly in the treasury with no provisions heretofore to spend it. It will go to a State Road Supervisor or others to start a system of State highways. It also provides that each county shall employ a county road supervisor, but he won't get any of the auto money; the fiscal court will settle with him.

A constitutional amendment to work convicts on the public roads will be submitted to the people in November, 1913.

The following appropriation bills were passed:

State Fair $50,000, Experiment Station $50,000, Educational Institutions, $110,000; Department of Agriculture, $20,000; Tuberculosis Commission $15,000; Blind School, $5,000; Deaf School, $5,000; Repair old Capitol $150,000; making about $300,000 as some of the above includes original amount and increase.

Women will hereafter vote in school elections.

The Geological Survey will be moved from Lexington to Frankfort. The Fish and Game bill passed both houses. It provides for a State Game Warden at $25,000 a year; also a county game warden and other officers; the expenses will be met by charging a license fee to every one who would hunt any game except on his own land or land of his neighbor. Non-resident hunters must pay $15 license and residents $1. county clerk also comes in a fee.

Hereafter minors will pay fine of $50 for entering a saloon. Sheriffs hereafter will have December to settle with the auditor if the Governor consent.

Both parties agreed on a Congressional Re-districting which went through in a while. It makes nine Democratic districts, and two, 10th and 11th Republican. The Republican headed by J. W. Langley felt ever each other to vote for a bill, there being as many Democrats opposing it as Republicans. It looked like the lamb putting his head in the lion's mouth. It is indeed strange political warfare to see Rufus Van Sant and John Langley, the opposing chiefs in last fall's campaign sleeping together.

Yours truly,

Judge Robbins Candidate for Congressman

good men in the race. With no purpose to detract anything from the claims of the others, it is our business today to deal with the candidacy of Judge Robbins.

In the first place Judge Robbins is so well known already to the voters of the district that the mention of his name brings him conspicuously into the minds of all. Knowing him as we do, and as you do, we unhesitatingly claim for him those high qualities of character and ability which the people are looking for in a Congressman. His candidacy, as it is heralded from home to home in the district, will at once appeal to those who have set a high standard in their casting about for the next Congressman for the First district. To very many he will at once appear to be the logical man to succeed Ollie James.

The life of Judge Robbins, when all is told, is simply that of many a farmer boy who has had his struggles with the hardships and discouragements of a life begun in poverty with a future before him that promised little unless he proved a good architect of his own fortunes. Joe Robbins, the boy, was blessed as many boys are with courage and a fixed purpose, which he never lost sight of. There was no day so dark at the outset of his life but that he could catch a glimpse of the sun through the clouds, and he kept the sunshine in mind.

He was born in Graves county in 1854, which brings him today to a ripe period in his life, neither too young nor too old to grapple with new problems and adjust himself to the changing conditions common in every free and liberty loving country.

Judge Robbins was not born to the purple—on the contrary, he was the son of a blacksmith and as an apprentice in the shop of his father his hands were also soiled by the dust of smithy. His honest toil began there and he learned there not to be afraid or ashamed of work. He has been a hard worker all his life—in the blacksmith shop, on the farm, as a student, as a lawyer and on the bench, and he has won his way in the world by work, coupled with native ability, honesty, morality and a set and inflexible purpose.

At the age of 18 he had acquired such schooling as an earnest boy could get by attending school in the winter months when there was nothing else to which he could lay his hands in the grim struggle for bread. When he was 18 his father died and he assumed the burden of supporting his mother and an infant sister. He would not have been the true type of American boy had this new responsibility overweighted him. It served but to try his mettle. He assumed the responsibility cheerfully and never shirked his task. He progressed in his studies until he was able to teach school and after four years of teaching he secured his license to practice law (in 1877) and then he opened a law office at Mayfield. He made friends, he created confidence, and he continued to work in order to fit himself for something more than a pettifogger. He set his aim high and held his aim.

The first public office he held was that of surveyor of Graves county, then he was elected county judge. In 1896 he was elected to represent Graves county in the State Legislature, and in 1897 he was elected Circuit Judge in this judicial district. Step by step he climbed and the people never had any cause to regret their partiality for him. He "made good" wherever he served them. To every place of trust he brought ability, integrity and thoroughness. He never slurred his job.

As a jurist he ranks with the first lawyers of Kentucky. On the bench he showed an acute judicial mind, a clearness of vision, a grasp of the law in applied cases, which need be looked for only in the ideal jurist and the thorough lawyer.

He was called to sit as special judge in the trial of Caleb Powers at Georgetown on one of Powers' trials for the assassination of Governor Goebel, and he has been called on several occasions to sit as special judge of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky.

So much for the life history of Judge Robbins, with which many of our readers are more or less familiar. It serves in this connection merely as a background for the picture of a man who comes before the people today equipped for higher service—equipped as few men we know, to give them creditable service, needed service, at a pivotal point in the history of our country.

We look forward with confidence, almost assurance, to the election of a Democratic President this fall. Conditions all seem ripe for it. The people are in the saddle and "interest" are backing up against their last wall for a desperate stand. We need our ablest men in the vanguard of the fight. We should make no mistake in naming our leaders. Conceding to other candidates the ardor and the courage and the acumen claimed for them, yet it is conspicuously true that Judge Robbins offers everything we could desire as the local standardbearer in this great struggle.

He is a Democra who stands with his party on advanced ground. He has had much to do with shaping the party policy in Kentucky and it was a progressive policy which gave us last year an old time Democratic victory.

With Judge Robbins in Congress the people of this district would feel that the loss of Mr. James to the House had been amply made up. He would bring to his aid in the discharge of his duties as a member of the House a varied experience in public affairs, a well settled and yet alert and receptive mind, and an established reputation as a leader in the councils of his party in the State.—Clinton Gazette, February 9.

GILBERT STUART—Portrait painter, chiefly noted for "Stuart's Washington."

Born Narragansett, R. I., Dec. 3, 1755; died Boston July 27, 1828. He began painting when thirteen, but was in such poverty he had to support himself as an organist while studying. He took lessons under West in London and returned to America to paint Washington, of whom he made many portraits, the most celebrated being in the Boston Athenaeum. He also painted four other presidents and other eminent Americans.

For Women Who Care

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best. Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

Paxtine
ANTISEPTIC

In the toilet—to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and bridgework clean and odorless. To remove nicotine from the teeth and purify the breath after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

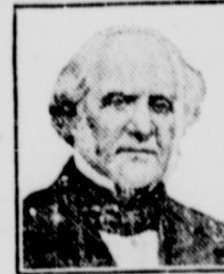

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. Also for nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes, cuts and wounds. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents a box. Trial box and testimony of 31 women free on request. THE PAXTONE TOILET CO., BOSTON, MASS.

Chopping the Roughage. When concentrates are made up of heavy feeds like corn chop, cottonseed meal, oilmeal, etc., we have always favored chopping a portion of the roughage, moistening it and mixing it with the concentrates. It has been found that the dairy cow does better when she is fed a ration somewhat light in its mechanical makeup, if not too much corn is used. In the absence of roots or silage we would suggest that about one pound of the linseed meal be fed daily to each cow. We should feed from twelve to fifteen pounds of the clover hay and all the shredded fodder the cows will consume, not forcing them to eat the coarser parts.—Hoard's Dairyman.

THE HALL OF FAME.

GEORGE PEABODY—American merchant and banker, celebrated as a philanthropist. Born Danvers (now Peabody), Mass., Feb. 18, 1795; died in London, Nov. 4, 1869. In 1837 he settled in London as a banker. Among his benefactions are the Peabody Institute in Baltimore, founded 1837, a fund for education in the south, gifts to Harvard, Yale and other colleges, to the workmen of London, etc. The Institute founded by Peabody in Baltimore by a gift of $1,400,000 combines a free library and lecture courses with an academy of music and an art gallery. Peabody also gave $200,000 to his native town to found an institute with free library and lectures.

Germes Spread in Skin

Eczema, Psoriasis and other skin troubles are caused by myriads of germs at work in the skin. Unless these germs are promptly destroyed they rapidly multiply, gnawing their way deep into the sensitive tissue. This is what causes that awful itch, and what seemed a mere rash may grow worse and develop into a loathsome and torturing skin disease with its years of misery. Don't take any chances! Destroy the germs at the beginning of the trouble with that soothing and cleansing wash, the D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema. A 25c bottle will prove this to you.

We have had experience with remedies for skin trouble but never seen such remarkable cures as those from D. D. D. Prescription. We are so confident that D. D. D. will reach your case that it will you nothing if the very first bottle fails to make good every claim. If you have skin trouble of any kind we certainly advise you to try it and investigate the merits of D. D. D. anyway. We know that it will help you.
